

CORPORATE PARTNERSHIPS REPORT 2023-2024

WWF-Belgium, June 2025

NATURE AT THE BRINK

WWF’s Living Planet Report shows that humanity and the way we feed, fuel, and finance our societies and economies is pushing nature and the services that power and sustain us to the brink. Agricultural expansion, deforestation, overfishing, urban development, energy use, mining, and pollution are all driving habitat loss, water shortages, and climate change. In addition, every year, the World Economic Forum Risks Report continues to show the increase in the scale and urgency of environmental risks to the global economy, as well as the deepening interconnections between environmental issues, economic strains, and geopolitical tensions. We cannot afford to be complacent. In fact, we need to move into an emergency and solutions-based mindset. The landmark Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change \(IPCC\) report, Sixth Assessment Report \(AR6\) paints a clear and urgent picture. The report warns that continued inaction will intensify climate-related hazards, disrupt ecosystems, undermine economies, and drive social instability. Allowing nature to fail is not an option - we must act decisively to transform our world economy and safeguard our future.

The good news is that we also have an unparalleled opportunity for positive change – the science is clearer, awareness is greater, and innovation is more powerful than ever before. We can redefine our relationship with nature – but we need to work together. One organization alone cannot deliver the change we need. That is why WWF collaborates with business – working in partnership – to find solutions and act at a scale that matters.

TAKING BOLD COLLECTIVE ACTION

The time to act is now. We have put in place a global conservation strategy that reflects the way the world is changing, meets the big environmental challenges of our time and helps us simplify, unite and focus our efforts for greater impact.

WWF continues to deliver locally in crucial ecoregions around the world focusing on our seven topic areas – biodiversity, forests, finance, oceans, freshwater, climate & energy, and food.

We are creating strong cross-functional collaborations within WWF and with key external partners to foster greater collaboration and innovation, incubating new ideas and taking promising ones to scale as we unite our efforts toward making ambitious targets a reality.

We know that one organization alone can’t effect the change needed. That is why our work on the goals and drivers includes our partnerships with institutions and corporations, both local and international. The changes we want to see in the world can only come about through the efforts of many actors: local communities and national and multinational corporations, governments and NGOs, finance institutions and development agencies, consumers, and researchers.

There has never been a stronger sense of urgency for action. In WWF, we are defining new ways of working together to make a difference on a scale that matters. We know we must redefine humanity’s relationship with the planet. And together, we passionately believe we can.

OUR WORK WITH THE CORPORATE SECTOR

WWF’s mission is to stop the degradation of the planet’s natural environment and to build a future in which humans live in harmony with nature.

Therefore, WWF seeks to work with those with the greatest potential to reduce the most pressing threats to the diversity of life on Earth and find solutions to conservation challenges such as deforestation, over-fishing, water scarcity, and climate change. The corporate sector drives much of the global economy, so companies also have a specific responsibility to ensure that the natural resources and ecosystems that underpin their business are used sustainably.

Many of our partnerships with companies use a combination of these approaches

Companies are also primed to lead on rapid adaptation and on the innovative solutions needed to drive change. We do this in a variety of ways, including supporting regulations that stop illegal or unsustainable activities, encouraging companies and industry platforms (e.g. Science-Based Targets initiative, Science-Based Target Network, and the Climate Business Network) to make ambitious commitments while also engaging in public policy discussions at global and local levels (e.g. Business Coalition for a Global Plastics Treaty, Forest Forward, Vision, Principles and Asks for DCF Supply Chains), providing helpful tools and frameworks (e.g., WWF Water Risk Filter, WWF Biodiversity Risk Filter, WWF Wood Risk Tool, and The Taskforce for Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD)) and supporting credible certification schemes (e.g. Forest Stewardship Council (FSC), Aquaculture Stewardship Council (ASC), Roundtable on Sustainable Palm Oil (RSPO), Roundtable on Responsible Soy (RTRS), Better Cotton Initiative (BCI)). We also publish scorecards and reports on company or sector performance (e.g. palm oil scorecard, soy scorecard, and sustainable cotton ranking), mobilize public pressure through high-profile campaigns on issues related to business activities (e.g. Business for Nature, Moratorium for Deep Sea Mining, Fossil to Clean Campaign), as well as working in partnership with individual companies.

This report presents an overview of this WWF office’s partnerships with individual companies.

OUR WORK IN CORPORATE PARTNERSHIPS

WWF works with companies to achieve our conservation goals. NGO and company partnerships involve engaging in constructive dialogue while challenging each other with real issues. As such, they involve opportunities and WWF works with companies to achieve our conservation goals. NGO and company partnerships involve engaging in constructive dialogue while challenging each other with real issues. As such, they involve opportunities and risks for both parties. At WWF, we manage the risks by having 10 clear asks for the corporate sector, clear guidelines and criteria in place, as well as a due diligence process. In all relationships, we maintain and exercise the right to public commentary.

Our collaboration with partners is based on a common understanding of issues, shared ambitions or activities, and a willingness to speak out in public.

WWF ENGAGES WITH COMPANIES AT THE DIFFERENT STAGES OF THEIR SUSTAINABILITY JOURNEY TO ENABLE SYSTEMIC CHANGE

1. TRANSFORMING BUSINESS

Our partnerships aim to deliver direct conservation results on key issues or in priority places by changing practices throughout a company's operations and value chain. We focus on assessing impacts and dependencies on nature and climate across the value chain, setting science-based targets for climate and nature, and implementing robust reduction plans. These efforts intend to reduce the major environmental impacts of some of the world's largest companies, achieve conservation results that would not otherwise be possible, and influence related sectors and industries.

with our partners, we advocate for ambitious sectoral and national sustainability policies and standards. We mobilize corporate capital for conservation initiatives and ensure investments are aligned with sustainable finance principles.

4. FINANCING CLIMATE AND NATURE PROJECTS

Through our partnerships, businesses invest in the protection and restoration of nature by financing WWF's global conservation work and actively participating in projects within their operational areas. This includes supporting innovative nature-based solutions and empowering indigenous and community-led conservation efforts.

2. CONSUMER AND EMPLOYEE ENGAGEMENT

The second way that WWF partners with the private sector is by raising awareness of key environmental issues among consumers and employees. The goal is to encourage sustainable consumption and lifestyle choices as well as promote the protection of natural habitats and biodiversity, highlighting the importance of preserving our planet's unique ecosystems.

TRANSPARENCY AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Results and impact, both qualitative and quantitative, are essential for us. We advocate transparency in action by all stakeholders as a crucial step toward sustainability. We believe that accountability for results and transparency to our supporters and our members on how we deliver those results are key to our approach of working in a constructive, cooperative manner with all our partners, including the corporate sector.

We want all our partnerships with companies to deliver the greatest impact possible, with the goal of creating lasting results at scale. We have, therefore, started a process of deeper and more systematic assessment of the targets and the outcomes we achieve in our work with the private sector and specifically through our bilateral partnerships.

3. SHARED POLICY AND ADVOCACY

By partnering with businesses, we harness collective influence and power to achieve change through joint advocacy for sustainability. Together

All WWF offices are committed to continue reporting publicly on all our company relationships, their intent, objectives, and impacts, of which this report is one part. A Global Report of WWF's largest corporate partnerships globally can also be found here.
